Petru Voicu travelled to Budapest, because he wanted to personally thank the WBPF Hungary team for their contribution in the organizing of the Timisoara European Championship. The businessman showed his appreciation by presenting Ildiko and Peter with an elegant gift for their

months and months of collaboration on the event. They went through all of their experiences collected at the championship, and planned out their strategy for further developing the federation in the coming fall season, by sitting and enjoying a delicious dinner together on the banks of the Danube at the Hotel Intercontinental Budapest. The Romanian president was keen on hearing Peter Sebestyen's - the president of WBPF Hungary - constructive suggestions for the times ahead. Laszlo Paal was also invited to dine with them, who had an active role in the strengthening of the friendship of the Hungarian and Romanian partners. Romania, this year for the first time, delegates athletes to the World Championship of Bangkok, right after they enter the European WBPF and Open competitions.

The next day, Ildiko Buranits, Secretary General of Europe, invited Petru Voicu and his guest for lunch. To symbolise the federation's Asian roots, beside tasty and light grilled dishes and salads, on the terrace of downtown Budapest's best Arab restaurant, they even puffed away some grape shisha together. As a surprise guest, Ildiko invited Bettina Nagy, the World Champion Fitmodel for lunch, who was the Overall Champion at the Timisoara European Championship, and who has very pleasant memories from Romania, understandably. Another participant at the lunch was Andrea Gergely, who worked very hard for the success of the Romania European Championship.
